ABOUT 501 COMMONS & TECHTACULAR

501 Commons increases the performance of nonprofits so they can better serve the individuals, families, and communities that depend upon them. Our exemplary HR, finance, IT services, customized management and technology consulting, and capacity building programs help Washington State's social sector create positive change. Nonprofit professionals become stronger leaders through the learning, coaching, and strategic guidance provided by 501 Commons. Additionally, our free personalized assistance, referrals to vetted consultants, and robust online resources help organizations access the expertise needed to advance their missions.

Techtacular has been a much-anticipated tech sector experience since 2009. The event raises money so more nonprofits benefit from our services, while bringing together tech sector leaders and professionals for an evening of networking, entertainment, fund, activities, outstanding food, signature libations, and inspiration. The Panoramic Center at Pacific Tower provides some of the best vistas in Seattle as a captivating backdrop.

This year, 501 Commons is shining a light on the critical lack of technology resources and expertise in the social sector – a sector we depend upon to solve some of the toughest problems facing our communities and the world. 501 Commons is working in partnership with its corporate and philanthropic partners to close the technology gap that exists between nonprofits and for-profits through its ZaptheGap campaign.

On October 27, 2016, Techtacular: ZaptheGap will recognize the exemplary leadership of companies that have taken action to provide the social sector with technology tools and know-how. Join the campaign to ZaptheGap and become a Techtacular sponsor!
